with Sally

What with listening to "Professor Quiz" and "Information Please," we have begun to pay attention to the more serious things of life. Education is our aim.

Besides, we were beginning to get an inferiority complex from always coming out on the "score yourself" tests with marks of 23% and 17 and 10%.

So we drew up our own questionnaire, and are proud to report that we make 100% on it every time.

If you'd like to try your hand at "Beating Around the Bush With Sally" (that's what we call our questionnaire), here it is.

No fail looking at the answers! Every question counts 4.

1. You love nice fresh oysters on the half shell. How can you get some without catching them yourself?

2. How can you save $10 this week?

3. Where can you buy fresh French bread in Daly City on Sundays?

4. If things fall out of the closet every time you open a door, what should you do?

5. Where will the Easter bunny make his headquarters this year?

6. An enchanting juvenile star will play here next week. Her first smash hit was "Three Smart Girls." She is the idol of every youngster in America. What is her name?

7. Where can you get a box of Presto Cake Flour absolutely free this week-end?

8. If your wife suddenly asked you why you didn't come home to dinner last night, what would you tell her?

It's Blondie

Pretty Penny Singleton finds the "Blondie" dialogue side-splitting. She has the title role in the CBS Monday night series which chronicles the humorous adventures of the Bumpstead family.

Versailles in Germany
On a lonely island in the Chiemsee in Germany stands one of the most amazing palaces in Europe—an almost identical reproduction of the chateau of Louis XIV at Versailles. The copy was built at tremendous expense by Ludwig II, the "mad king" of Bavaria, who cherished a great admiration for the French king and his famous country estate.

tures of the Bumpstead family. Born Dorothy McVulky in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Penny began her career at the age of nine, singing illustrated songs in a movie house. She starred in musical comedy on Broadway, retired to California to write poetry, was drafted for the films and then became a radio star.

What's New in Cooking
by Gertrude Dent

IT HAS been said that all of us, at heart, are collectors; we may collect oil paintings or old glass, or poetry or plants; or perhaps like the woman I read about not long ago, we collect memories of beautiful things—a gorgeous sunset, or the first crocus pushing its way through the last snow of spring.

A good many homemakers have their own private kitchen collections of recipes and household hints "filed" in a notebook or in a convenient pantry drawer for future reference.

These recipes and hints of homemaking may save the day, when a harassed homemaker is looking for something new and different to serve to her club or for a suggestion for washing her young son's new wool sweater.

Here are a few "collectors' items" for your own homemaking scrapbook—an unusual recipe for a delicious pie, and a few practical hints on homemaking, too.

Washington Nut Pie

2 eggs (well beaten)
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup butter (melted)
1 cup dark corn syrup
1 cup walnut meats (cut fine)

Combine ingredients in order listed, and beat well. Pour into unbaked pie shell and bake in a hot oven (450°) for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350°, and bake 20 minutes longer.

The nuts form a deliciously flavored top crust on the pie, the rich custard filling is smooth and creamy, and the pastry flaky, gold on brown and tender, when the baking is done in your new electric range. Even at the high temperature of 450°, required to "set" the crust making and browning are unnecessary in these modern ranges; there's no burning and moving about of pans required to insure even baking.

George and Millie

(Editor's Note: Technical information for this recipe has been supplied by The New Process Laundry.)

Dear Mother:

Just a line to let you know papa arrived tonight. I must say he looks furious. I do hope he doesn't break George's neck, although I couldn't blame him if he did.

He says he has something good and strong to say to George about meddling in the laundry business and converting housewives to the easier way of life and such.

The only trouble is that so far we haven't been able to find

Speaking of custards, do you know that it isn't necessary to use a double boiler when you're cooking soft custards on the surface unit of an electric range? Just turn the live-speed electric unit to low, and cook in a sauce pan until the custard thickens.

George: I've called the laundry, too. They haven't seen him since about 2 o'clock this afternoon when he was muttering something about "liberating the downtrodden from the unbearable yoke of household drudgery."

In Haste,

Millie

Bears Welcome Tourists

Yellowstone is not the only place where bears welcome visitors. For tourists to Zakopane, Poland's famous holiday resort, report that huge polar bears meet them on the roads walking upright on their hind legs. They are men in bears' clothing usually accompanied by a photographer who will perform his function while the visitor poses between two terrifying bruisers.

Meatless Dinner
a man will enjoy

by Dorothy Greig

THE words "meatless dinner" to the average man conjure up a cheerless vision of a lettuce leaf, a bit of fruit and him feeling hollow. A dinner can be meatless, however, and at the same time so satisfying, that he will never even realize he has not had meat. When meat is left out another of the filling protein foods should be substituted—fish, eggs, cheese, beans. Also, start with a nice thick soup and end with a real honest-to-godness dessert.

For instance:

Cream of Asparagus Soup
(Add milk to condensed asparagus soup)
Codfish Cakes with Tomato Sauce
(For the sauce, heat condensed tomato soup, thick, just as it comes from the can. Boil!)
Cold Slaw with Creamy Dilled Dressing
Battered Potatoes
Cheese Rolls
Deep Dish Apple Pie with Hot Sauce
Coffee

Therys Open Unique Food Shop

Busy Mrs. Housewife will be glad to hear that Daly City's newest enterprise will be of direct service to her. No longer will it be necessary to scurry home from a hard day's shopping to fix hubby's dinner. Instead, it will be easy to drop in at Therys where a wide variety of delicious home-cooked foods await the selection of the customer. Packed in "non-leakable" containers, the various foods may be carried home easily with the rest of the bundles.

But such things as "chicken pie, southern style," appeal to not only the busy housewife, but to everybody. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thery, proprietors, cordially invite the public to visit their modern shop, 6157 Mission street, opening day, Saturday, March 9. The Therys have been residents of Daly City for the past four years.

Boris Karloff In Grim Drama Of 15th Century

One man at least remains un-horrified by the shuddery shadows Boris Karloff has brought to the screen during his 20 years in pictures.

That hard-shelled holdout is Karloff himself.

Boris is, however, reported to have succumbed to the teeth-chattering potentialities of his latest role, that of "Mord," the executioner, in Universal's "Tower of London." The fifteenth century drama is now playing at the Daly City theatre, with Karloff acting as chief ally of Richard III, a part played by Basil Rathbone.

Mord is more than monster, and the comparative simplicity of the make-up is a factor which leads Karloff to believe that the characterization might be his most effective.

"Instead of a more or less mechanical monster, Mord is definitely a human being for all his diabolical deeds," Karloff stated during filming.

"I believe that humans can be made to, and do, fear other humans more than they do a beast, mechanism or other 'outside' threat," Karloff continued. "Mord was more than a powerful brute of a man who delighted in torture and in wielding the executioner's ax. He was a symbol of the system born of the Dark Ages, that held thousands in terror."

Companion feature on the new bill is "The Flying Deuces," starring Laurel and Hardy and Jean Parker.
